C. H. Cable, of the firm of Coshaw & Cable, Brownsville, called at the Express office Wednesday. He informs us of several new discoveries in the Calpooza mining district.

Mr. Mitchell, Supt. of the W. V. & C. M. R. R. made a quick trip from Princeton to Lebanon. He left Princeton Sunday evening at 5 o'clock and arrived here Tuesday evening at 6:30.

Mrs. Moore, of Olympia, and Mrs. Callin, of Tacoma, sisters of Mrs. C. B. Montague, called on her trip from the Sound, and will remain in Lebanon for some time.

The following is said to be a sure cure for blind storks: Take 4 drops of max vomion, 1 table spoonful of tincture of blood root, mix with bran and give the animal one pint, three times a day.

Mr. Barnes, of Princeton, was in Lebanon Tuesday and Wednesday. He is one of the witnesses before the wagon road commission, and will appear before that body at their meeting in Albany to-day.

Mr. Benj. Mills, on his return from Tillamook county, left us a very fine sample of Nestucca honey. Evidently that country must possess the best of facilities for bee culture. Mr. Mills says that he has a colony of 100.

Mr. W. B. Brown, who taught the South Brownsville school last winter, has been engaged to teach in district 81, near Lebanon. Mr. Brown is an excellent teacher and will give the best of satisfaction.

It is believed that the Oregon Pacific will have a line into Portland within twelve months from this time. If the company goes to Salem as proposed, it will simply be a "lift" on the route to Portland.

Rev. C. A. Woolley left yesterday for Eugene, from whence he will return to Brownsville Sunday and from there he will proceed to Walla Walla to attend the U. P. synod. He will probably reside at Sodaville hereafter.

Miss Lizzie Houck, of this place, who has been spending the summer at Princeton, returned last week on a visit to her parents. She will remain a short time, and return to take charge of a school at Princeton for the winter. Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Miller, of Albany were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Montague on Sunday and Monday last.

Mr. Wallace is the energetic manager of the Lebanon express, and is doing a large business, and well deserve the liberal patronage they enjoy.

The state railroad commission has notified the companies that the following rates are high enough for short hauls: From five miles and not exceeding ten miles on carload lots, 4 cents per 100 lbs, or 88 per car, over ten miles and not exceeding twenty miles 6 cents per 100 lbs, or $12 per carload.

On the morning of the 25th the Canyon City and Baker City stage was robbed in the vicinity of Auburn, by two men. They took the mail sacks. It was at the same place where it was held up about a year ago. They got a gold watch and a few dollars from the passengers. The robbers were captured last week.

A large barn of James Johnson, near Carlton, Yamhill county, was burned to the ground Friday evening with all its contents. Several horses were burned and about thirty tons of hay, and many hundred bushels of wheat and oats. It is generally supposed that it was set on fire by tramps. Loss, about $3000; no insurance.

Will the Oregonian, or any other paper, in the light of the murder of Chas. Maudslayi in Portland last Monday morning—a young man shot down without provocation, by a man simply because he was "emazy drunk"—do the right to drink and do such deeds should not be abridged by the people? God forbid!

The suit of the Oregon Pacific railroad against Messrs. McKenney, Shaffer and Pearson to condemn the land where the road crosses their farms, in the special term of circuit court in Albany, was settled on Thursday of last week by the company paying the plaintiffs $800 and agreeing to construct suitable crossings, etc.

Capt. N. B. Humphrey of Albany, called at Lebanon for a short time on Wednesday. The Captain has been east of the mountains for some time, and from him we learn that prohibitionists are more enthusiastic in that section than elsewhere throughout the state. We expect to see a good vote for the amendment in Baker, Morrow and Umatilla counties.

Among the Oregonians now visiting in the east from this place are F. M. Miller, who is at St. Louis; F. H. Roscoe, wife and daughter, who are in Michigan; H. C. Harkness, who is visiting relatives and friends in Illinois; J. Nixon, B. Crouch and H. Taylor are also at various places east, but just where we failed to learn. All are no doubt having a good time.

Fire out between Albany and Corvallis on Sunday last, in a stable field on the farm of D. Matholund, spread and burned considerable fencing and other property. At the Dixie school-house during the progress of church service, the fire threatened to burn the building, and the entire congregation adjourned and fought fire for several hours. No great damage is reported.

Rev. Dr. Peligrow, who lives at McMinnys, met with a serious accident near Lafayette on the evening of the 24th. He was driving a one-horse buggy and met a bicycle, at which the horse became frightened and he fell.

The Eugene Guard says: Barrett's circus returned here last Monday night. The show was only commonplace, and those attending were generally dissatisfied. The city officers are to be congratulated on keeping the thieves who operated games in all the other towns in the state from opening "skin" games here. Marshal Day compelled the ticket sellers in the outside regions to return over $1000 dollars from parties who they had swindled in making change.

The harvest is over and many of our patrons should remember that it is a good time to settle their subscriptions. The time is a number on being paid, who owe for the Express six months, and while it is only a dollar, there are so many of them that it amounts to a good deal of dollars. We find that Lebanon is not unlike other places that it takes money to "make the mare go." Hence, with kind regards for all our patrons, we modestly ask an arrangement to be made by paying up.

One of the greatest conveniences to a city or town is a good hotel. There is nothing that leaves a more favorable impression upon the traveler than a good hotel. An institution should receive the encouragement of every citizen who has the interest of his town at heart. Lebanon has a hotel so managed that any one can consistently recommend it to public favor. Mr. Parrish is to be congratulated upon the very favorable impression he is making with the St. Charles.

Joe Cannon, who is accused of firing the town of Lexington, Morrow county, was bound over at Heppner on Saturday last in default of $5000 bail. Prosecuting Attorney W. L. Wood, stated that he is the principal instigator of the crime, and that there is a complete chain of evidence which will convict him. Cannon has friends who are conspiring to get him out of the hands of the law. Cannon will make an effort to be removed to The Dalles, as he is afraid of being lynched.

H. Bundy & Son's steam sawmill at Hillbottom, Oregon, was destroyed by about 1 o'clock last Friday morning and burned to the ground. The mill was built by Hiram Smith in 1883 at a cost of about $12,000, and was owned by Bundy & Son, principally in the London, Liverpool & Globe. There was $1500 worth of lumber, covered by insurance in the New Zealand, this being only a partial loss. The cause of the fire is unknown. A tramp was seen coming from the direction of the mill shortly after the fire was discovered.

Last fall, says the Oregonian, a car on the Oregon Pacific was over the incline at Fulcrum Landing into the Willamette river, where it remained until last winter, when the floods of the Willamette carried it out of the channel and carried it over the falls at Oregon City. Here a steambait fastened to it and towed it to an incline at Oregon City, where it was got out, and is on the Oregon Pacific today. It is in as good a condition as when it was first run. The cause of the fire is unknown. A tramp was seen coming from the direction of the mill shortly after the fire was discovered.

Lebanon is the liveliest town of 700 inhabitants in the Willamette valley. Aside from the marked increase in business, many substantial improvements are being made. The new M. E. church and parsonage, and several other buildings are in course of construction. Our business men are daily adding to their large supplies of goods, which is an evidence that they are selling a proportionate amount. Money is somewhat plentiful, and taking into consideration the fact that all kinds of produce—especially horses—will be a fair price, we have every reason to be encouraged.

Up to the present time the Lebanon warehouse has received 45,000 bushels of grain, and Messrs. Churchill & Monteth, lessees, have out 50,000 sacks. The prospects are bright under the present efficient management, this warehouse will not have capacity for the grain which will seek storage here next year. The fact is, this house, when rightly managed, is not only a benefit to the managers, but also to all of our merchants, as when farmers are storing their grain they also do more or less trading. Messrs. Churchill & Monteth are to be congratulated in the large business they have done this year.

On Saturday evening last Mr. H. L. Pitcock, of the Lebanon Express, called by Mr. E. L. Caldwell of the editorial staff of this paper, came to Lebanon for the purpose of visiting this beautiful section of the valley. On Sunday morning we had the pleasure of accompanying these gentlemen to Waterloo, and Sodaville. Like all who have visited these places of resort they were more than pleased with their trip, and the future prospects of our community. Mr. Pitcock was especially pleased with the advantages we possess in the way of manufacturing facilities, being accessible to one of the best water powers in the state.

Mr. Thurston, ex-superintendent of the W. V. & C. M. R. R., and other parties connected with the wagon road commission passed through Lebanon on Thursday afternoon, on their way to Portland. From what we can learn it is not probable that the commission will make a report favorable to the company. How can they if the granting such an immense lot of the public domain has not been complied with? We want to see justice done in the matter, and we believe the men who compose the commission are not to be misled, now that some work is being done, and that which has been done has been done seventeen years ago.

From a commercial journal it is learned that California and Oregon wool will stand a good chance in the Eastern markets this winter. The mountain wool is higher than that of 1886, and in many Eastern states reports show that wool-growing, as an industry, is being slowly abandoned. Farmers in some parts of Michigan refuse to sell at less than fancy prices. The decrease in the number of sheep in the Eastern states from year to year is having a marked influence on the trade of the whole country, and it does not of course affect the Pacific coast. The total number of sheep owned in Michigan this year is 2,005,749, against 2,132,929 in 1886.

Vice-President William Reid, of the Portland & Willamette Railroad, said to a News reporter a few days ago, that trains would be running to the levees by October 30th or November 1st. The line would have been in here long ago, as mentioned, but for delays in securing the right of way from Elk Rock to the city. A large number of land owners had to be consulted and their claims settled. Another cause of delay was the high water, which has kept back construction on the Elk Rock trestle. The river at this point is ninety-eight feet deep at low water and the workmen had to wait until it receded to about four feet above low water before accomplishing anything. The timbers are cut for the trestle and the masonry is in building upon which the trestle will rest.

To Whom It May Concern, All parties knowing themselves indebted to us either by note or book account must make their arrangements to meet the same by December 1st. We must have money to do business on. Don't wait for a personal call, but come forward and make settlement of some and oblige. Thompson & Waters.

Everybody should read the advertisement of Ralston Cox, The Peoples' Grocer.

Immigration Matters. The bureau of immigration is once more in full operation, under reliable auspices. The committee appointed by President Doolittle Mackey, of the Portland board of trade, assumed formal charge on Monday, and named Mr. Wallace R. Struble for secretary. By permission of Hon. G. W. McBride, secretary of state, the new board has called a number of names on the list of speakers, now published in your paper. Never mind, though; let them know that although they are small board, they will not escape notice in this campaign. They are either for or against us, and if they show they are against us, just mark a brick for them and slip it into your pocket. They are to meet on the 21st of next June and then you will find use for your brick. If they like saloon keepers better than temperance people, let us get the names of the class of people next June.

Enma Morris has accepted the position of milliner at the millinery store of Mrs. Smith.

Miss Edith Pentland commenced her school on Monday near Silverton. This being her first term, we wish her success.

Mr. Stine, editor of the Express, called on Friday evening, accompanied by Rev. Geo. W. Gibbons, who spoke on the prohibition question.

This week the court house door was opened, and behold, the village blacksmith was called to the bar. He settled his account in full with the marshal.

My Reasons for Hearing Philip Phillips To-night. He is peerless as a singer of discursive songs. The sentiments of his songs are richly illustrated by beautiful pictures. He has sung to more people than any other man, and knows how to reach the hearts of the people. He holds his audience spell-bound from beginning to end. His enunciation is so clear that all can hear every word he utters. He gracefully describes a pictorial tour of the world. His pictures are the most expensive and artistic ever shown upon the screen. He is a man of the highest order of talent. His entertainments are always refining and elevating in character. If I do not go to-night I shall regret it.

Every house keeper should read the "ad" of Ralston Cox, The Peoples' Grocer. It is money in your pocket.

Baldness may be prevented, and a thick growth of hair stimulated, by the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor. This preparation also restores the natural color to gray hair, and renders it soft, pliant and glossy.

Missionary Convention. On October 4th, 1887, at the First Presbyterian church of Lebanon, there will be held a Missionary convention conducted by Mr. and Mrs. Holt of Portland, and Mr. and Mrs. Nowell of Salem. The object of this convention is not to raise funds for the cause, but to set before our people the work of the Presbyterian church in its unity and completeness. The following will be the order of exercises: From 2 o'clock to 2:30 p. m., a devotional meeting. At 2:30 a woman's meeting. At 4:30 p. m., a children's meeting; at 7:30 p. m., a popular meeting to which everybody is invited.

NEW Millinery Goods, CONSISTING OF: The Latest Styles in HATS, BONNETS AND TRIMMINGS. AT Mrs. G. W. Rice's, Main St., Lebanon, Oregon.

Albany is overcome with transient people at present, and it is hard to predict how long the stay will be of the transient. Of the feeling among the real residents of the city there is no doubt. It is decidedly a prohibition and we will do well on election day despite the home population.

Frank Jones the great Southern Methodist revivalist, is now working like a Turk for prohibition in Tennessee, and he says if he has any breath left after that campaign is over, he is coming to Oregon to give us a lift. Wine, as welcome as he will receive. Thousands in this state would go fifty miles to hear him, and no building will contain the people that will flock to his meetings. The question naturally arises: If California can make a signal success in sending fruit East, why cannot Oregon? As regards most of the green fruits that have gone East the Southern part at least of Oregon can raise as fine, and in general as many varieties as California can. California has experience this summer ought to teach Oregon a lesson. There is a fortune in Oregon fruit if it is well prepared and can be cheaply carried to market. The Central Pacific and its connections made so low a rate on fruit shipped East that it has already brought money into the pockets of fruit raisers, fruit dealers and fruit shippers. What green fruit could not well be marketed has been dried and canned. Tons upon tons of fruit was prepared will go to waste this fall, and as it is marketed, growers and dealers will get quick returns of their labor and expense.

The Pay As You Go System. It is no unusual thing for close buyers, commercial men and other classes to Lebanon, to remark that Montague is doing more business than all the others in the town. This may or may not be the case, but one thing is certain he has demonstrated beyond the possibility of doubt the practicality of doing a first-class business on a "pay as you go basis." With the money in hand to purchase his goods, he can and does buy at the lowest rates than merchants who buy on time. He secures the largest discounts given to the trade. His expenses are at the very minimum possible in the conduct of his large business, and he can and does offer goods to his patrons at lower rates than any other business house in Lebanon.

Now that money is becoming more plentiful, many new buyers visit his mammoth establishment daily who express astonishment at his immense stock and low prices. Remember that we pay the highest price for merchantable produce and exchange merchandise for the same at our cash prices. Be wise in your generation and buy all your supplies of Montague.

It is amusing, yet it is just really funny to see the Albany politicians trying to keep "astraddle" of the fence on the temperance question. They stick on like a spring clothes-pin, and you can't get them off on either side by any system of pinching which has so far been inaugurated. There is only one policy will reach them and that is "policy." If they could only understand how high the feeling is in this country in favor of prohibition, you could get more lawyers names on the list of speakers, now published in your paper. Never mind, though; let them know that although they are small board, they will not escape notice in this campaign. They are either for or against us, and if they show they are against us, just mark a brick for them and slip it into your pocket. They are to meet on the 21st of next June and then you will find use for your brick. If they like saloon keepers better than temperance people, let us get the names of the class of people next June.

Fall Stock. Montague's fall stock is now complete in every department. He cordially invites those who like to get the worth of their money to inspect his goods and prices before buying elsewhere. Our Dress Goods department is full and winter styles is very complete, indeed, and two offered at from 10 to 25 cents lower than other establishments sell the same class of goods. We are overstocked in some lines and will sell them small cheap out of necessity of stock. The latest goods are placed on a separate counter and you can have them at your own price.

Clothing Department. We have received this week a very fine selection of 3 mill's and men's suits of the latest style and patterns, which we shall dispose of at lowest prices.

Gents Furnishing Goods Department. We have an elegant line in gents furnishing goods as we always do for the fall trade, such as fancy neck wear for the young men, suspenders in all grades from 25c up. One-half hour of the famous Blackford III. make, which is the best that comes in this market. Silk and linen hankerschiefs, fancy and plain under wear, collars and cuffs in ecru and linen.

Boot and Shoe Department. We have a large trade in this department, because we carry nothing but the best goods and when we sell a pair of boots or shoes we always give our customers good value for their money, thereby maintaining their trade. Our sales of the W. L. Douglas shoe has been beyond our expectation and still increasing. John Montague's selection of goods for children and misses, received the great accolade at the New Orleans fair, as the best in the United States; they are the best shoes that can be obtained; there is no better made; we are the sole agents in this city. Our Day-sew goods have a big run for style and durability; they can not be beat, and so easy as a custom-made. Do not forget the old reliable Buckingham & Heath boots and shoes, good honest goods, no shoddy in them. When you want a good pair of shoes or boots come in and see us.

Men's, Youth's, Boys and children's clothing. It is now considered that Montague keeps the only general assortment of clothing in town. He has a mammoth stock of selected from. As with his other merchandise this clothing was bought very low for cash and is now placed on sale at prices that defy competition. The great number of men, boys and children fitted out in complete suits at Montague's mammoth establishment within the past week will bear testimony to the fact that he has no competition in this town in the clothing line worthy of the name. Save your hard earned money by invariably buying at Montague's.
